

VITAMIN D AND CALCIUM - THE RECIPE FOR HEALTHY BONES

VITAMIN D

Vitamin D is essential for bone health. AAP recommends that exclusively and partially breastfed infants receive supplements of 400 IU/day of vitamin D shortly after birth and continue to receive these supplements until they are weaned and consume $\geq 1,000$ mL/day (aprox 32 oz = 1 qt.) of vitamin D-fortified formula or whole milk because breast milk is a very poor source of Vitamin D. (All formulas sold in the United States provide ≥ 400 IU vitamin D₃ per liter, and the majority of vitamin D-only and multivitamin liquid supplements provide 400 IU per serving.) Similarly, all non-breastfed infants ingesting <1,000 mL/day (aprox 32 oz = 1 qt.) of vitamin D-fortified formula or milk should receive a vitamin D supplement of 400 IU/day.

AAP also recommends that older children and adolescents who do not obtain 400 IU/day through vitamin D-fortified milk and foods should take a 400 IU vitamin D supplement daily.

CALCIUM

Calcium is a mineral needed by the body for healthy bones, teeth, and proper function of the heart, muscles, and nerves. The body cannot produce calcium; therefore, it must be absorbed through food. Good sources of calcium include

- Dairy products—low fat or nonfat milk, cheese, and yogurt
- Dark green leafy vegetables—bok choy and broccoli
- Calcium fortified foods—orange juice, cereal, bread, soy beverages, and tofu products
- Nuts, especially Almonds
